

Balancing your Clients and Caseload

Every client expects you to deliver a win and as a civil litigator it's your duty to build the strongest case possible to ensure that this happens. Hours of your day are spent managing clients, court dates, procedures, and reacting to your opposing counsels' various maneuvers. Juggling all these moving pieces requires a technological solution that can run your firm and allow you to focus on winning cases.

From intake through to settlement, Clio for Civil Litigation centralizes your workflow and customizes to the varied and extensive needs of each of your cases.

Ensure Success with Clio

Regardless of your client's intention to settle or see a win through the courts, you need to be prepared to fight boldly on their behalf. Let Clio take care of your firm and case management so that you can take care of your clients. Set your Civil Litigation practice up for success with Clio.

Client Intake - Effortlessly collect client and case information during onboarding. Easily save, share, and reproduce it whenever necessary.

Discovery - Clio is a hub for evidence collection, supports a multitude of file types, and offers unlimited data storage. It also integrates with multiple third-party data storage providers.

Court Calendaring - Avoid procedural errors and never miss a court deadline. Clio automatically displays key court dates, populates the deadlines in your calendar, and sends out reminders.

Expense Tracking - Create budgets and track all case-related spending for swift reimbursement.

Trust Accounting - Easily request and track deposits to trust accounts. Clients can deposit funds directly to your trust account using Clio's built-in credit card processing capabilities.

Billing - Customizable and detailed invoicing eliminates disputes regarding costs on billable hours from clients, opposing parties, and the courts.
